“ I've sat here for the last week, on and off, staring at this little screen trying to come up with the words to let you know how devastating your passing is to me. I just can't find the right words.....

How we depended on each other every day for support and understanding having to do with our mental well being; which included discussions on a multitude of topics, laughing ourselves stupid over one thing or another, going to the Pet Expo's the last several years and having lunch after discussing all the animals, mostly dogs, or just sitting quietly together lost in our individual thoughts.

(Quiet didn't happen too often, however!)

While I don't remember every detail about events, like you used to, certain things stand out in my mind about something that we did or said or some sticky predicaments in which we found ourselves. And while we had our differences in thoughts on politics and a few other things, we remained friends for 33 years.

I remember one time, when my envy of your easy personality and way with people got the better of me, I told you "it is hard to be your friend ". In reflection, being your friend wasn't the hard part, it was my own insecurity and inadequacies rearing their ugly head!

Now, I want to say to you, even though it is the sunset hour of our friendship,
I WILL MISS YOU MORE THAN I EVER THOUGHT I WOULD!

I will miss your obstinance, your laughter, your giving ways, the way your eyes lit up at something funny, your determination, your strength of will, your mutual passion and love of God's creatures, our mutually shared insecurities and inadequacies (real or imagined) and our running joke about who tripped and fell more often. (I think YOU are the winner there!)

To say I will miss you is an understatement, dear friend. There really are no words.....!

Til we meet again, keep all the squirrels fed in Heaven and keep 'em laughing!

RUN RUN she would yell!! My wife Diana and I met Bob and Marge in New York City and had a great weekend several years back. Rest in peace Marge until we all meet again!!

“ I am still stunned with this news. Margie is responsible for me finding my true love. Starting as supervisors 25 years ago using magnets to designate when were were allowed to talk. Sitting next to one another- we often did not get our work done. We have been through so many ups and downs and it breaks my heart that were were not in contact more often these last couple years. When we were together we were always sharing amazing meals, playing pinochle or double solitaire. I would always gloat when I won! She appreciated my love of animals and asked me to watch over her Lani should this day ever happen. When we debated it would get heated. She has a strong spirit and huge heart! Thank you for all our good times! I will not be at her service today in person but will be in spirit.

“ My dear God... I just had dinner with her. She had her all time favorite that she always had after a WW meeting on Tuesday evenings. Belgium waffle, Scrapple and Matzo Ball Soup with a cup of coffee and a glass of water. Couldn't imagine eating it and teased her about it but she did love it. Such an inspiration in and out of our meetings. Always so encouraging and supportive. She called me a few days before this happened and left her usual joke on my voicemail. I can't erase the voicemail. You could have knocked me over with a feather when I found out that she was gone. I had to read the message over and over for it to register. So full of life on the outside but sad on the inside. She did her best but it was very hard on her. Her beautiful heart wouldn't let her stop even though it was so hard. We had so many serious talks, if only we could have one more. I love her with my heart. She could definitely turn anytime into something fun and that she did. Thank you for taking me for my surgery. You did make me laugh that day which got me through it. Rest in peace my dear friend. You will be so desperately missed.

“ I was heartbroken to hear of Margie’s passing. Everyone loved her and she made everyone laugh. Even though we had to go to work, she always made it fun, she cracked jokes, she could make you laugh and laugh and just her presence made you smile. She was always a dear friend to me, but especially at a time of need. Even though Margie didn’t drink, she would let me bring my wine over and drink the whole bottle and cry my eyes out to her. I used to joke with her about letting me be her adopted daughter. She was a truly selfless, kind, loving woman who I will miss dearly, just knowing she is gone and not able to pick up the phone, see her posts on Facebook or go to dinner with her. She will forever be missed. Rest In Peace dear Margie, and may God hold you in the palm of his hands until meet again. Will always love and miss you.

“ Margie was my Brothers wife and a great person.
She took excellent care of Bob in the last few years and went well above what others would have done.
Her and I had a lot of fun over the years pulling pranks on one another and telling jokes.
Mine were always clean is all I can say!
I remember one year we had a bet on the Super Bowl. My team was the Broncos and they won. To pay the bet Margie put 50 one dollar bills in a cookie tin then went to a local farm and gathered enough horse manure to fill the tin, sealed it up and sent it to me by US Mail!!
I will miss her and ask God to give her a great reception as she meets with her beloved Father and Mother at Heavens Gate.

“ Aunty is such a beautiful person! I love her, and miss her so much. I have so many beautiful memories with, and of her. She was one of a kind. Now she's my angel. She was the most caring, giving, loving person ever! The food she created can't be duplicated. She was my rock. I'm lost right now, when we played words with friends, she sent me little memes to make me laugh, and get me stirred up. Thankyou to everyone who loves my aunty, she was a true blessing that can't be replaced. Rest easy aunty. I'm very sad!
