“ Remembering Bob

I came to RVRHS in 1961 from Florida. I had no friends in school. One of the first people I met was Bob. He was like a friend I always knew. We hung together and I met a lot of people through him. It seemed to me everyone liked him. In June 1962, we just finished our junior year. We were walking back to his house and he introduced me to Barbara Basilone. I married that girl 5 years later. We are still married today. Bob and I spent a lot of time talking about our young dreams and desires. Most them all came true. I somehow knew he would be the consummate student and teacher.

Bob was the best man at my wedding in 1967. He is the Godfather of my oldest daughter whose is also a teacher. We lost touch mostly through distance, trying to raise a family and work. When I moved back to NJ in 1978 we reconnected. I moved again this time to Georgia and we lost touch again. Thanks to Facebook we reconnected in Florida. We met when he came to Vince in Sarasota.

He was more than a friend he helped me see the potential in myself. I have never met a person who didn't like Bob. The lost is ours but memories are ours too. Rest in peace teacher a job well done.
