“ I'm know that Byron is at peace in Light and Love. May all of us who are his friends, family, and church family know that he is cradled in God's abiding abundant love. Byron touched my life with his gentle smile, kind manner, and our varied talks at church. May all who love him find God's peace as time passes.##imported-begin##Deborah Roderick##imported-end##

“ We did not know Byron; however, reading his beautiful obituary details, we wanted to send a poem to help ease your grief. Surely Byron stands next to Jesus, now completely understanding all of God's mysterious ways. May God grant you strength and courage to continue as Bryon would want you to do.

#####

"We can shed tears that Byron is gone, or you can smile because he lived.

You can close your eyes and pray that he will come back, or you can open your eyes and see all that he has left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see him or you can be full of the love that you shared.

You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday, or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember him because he is gone or you can cherish his memory and let him live on.

You can cry and close your mind be empty and turn your back, or you can do what he would want: smile, open your eyes, and let his memory live on through you..."

"There will come a day
when the tears of sorrow
will softly flow into tears of remembrance...
and your heart will begin to heal itself...
and grieving will be interrupted by episodes of joy...
and you will hear the whisper of hope.
There will come a day
when you will welcome the tears of remembrance...
as a sunshower of the soul...
a turning of the tide...
a promise of peace.

*There will come a day when you will...
risk loving...
go on believing...
and treasure the tears of remembering.
There will come a day
when you will have the greatest reunion...
your souls will renew with the presence of God...
your hearts will rejoice in glorious peace...
and...
your love will continue for eternity.##imported-begin##Chet &
