“ Chris and family,
Our sincere expressions of sympathy are written to you today. We are better people to have known your dad throughout these many years at picnics, at church functions, or local stores where he worked so hard. Pride comes to mind when I think of the way Charlie did things and brought us along for the ride. One thing we know for sure is how much he loved his family and was so very proud of his son. Life throws wrenches at us sometime, but Charlie's belief in God's love was contagious, especially throughout St. Andrew's Church family. He will be greatly missed. Sincerely,
Terri & John Sackett

Our families have wonderful memories together, spending weeks together in Shipbottom, NJ when we were teens. Charlie was a very caring person to his family and friends, always there with a helping hand. Our deepest condolences from the entire Vaccaro family to the Haines family. So so sorry for your loss.
