“ During her tenure with the Federal Aviation Administration Clare played a crucial role in many high priority efforts critical to the safety and security of the US air transportation system. Clare was always the consummate professional and a perfect example of what a dedicated civil servant should strive to be. I will always remember her magnetic personality, positive attitude, sense of humor and dedication to her friends, coworkers and country.

My deepest condolences to Clare's friends and family.

“ For my beautiful, funny, intelligent and loving friend Clare, who wanted the best for everyone because you saw the best in everyone. You shared some of the happiest moments of my life, and I could never have a more loyal or caring friend. The example you set for service and dedication to family, friends and country and to all of your fellow creatures is my goal for a life well lived. My world became a better place the first day I met you at the FAA, so many years ago, and until we meet again, may flights of angels sing thee to thy rest, and may God hold you in the palm of his hand. To Steve and Shane and Kyan, Betsey, Jane, Roger & James and all of the family my heartfelt condolences for so great a loss. All my love, Grace
