“ My condolences. Danny introduced himself when we were neighbors in NJ back 16 years ago. Such a great personality and person. Best Danny story. He drove me to Phil airport one time. As he is telling me a story he is using his hands, as us Italians are prone to do lol, swerving between lanes. Told him white lines are NOT optional and at least one hand on wheel at all times. I truly will miss our conversations, as we kept in touch my 16 years of moving around for the military. I'm so sorry for your loss. Great person.
