“ David could draw, paint or even sculpt anything with lifelike accuracy. I learned a lot from his techniques. Just ask Rocky about birds that tried to land on ropes painted on a wall by David. But it wasn't just the talent which drew us neighbors. We loved his imagination and irrepressible, mischievous spirit. Like the sign he posted out front of his home regarding the fictional woman who lived at 111 Garden and still haunted it. Looking like an official marker, I imagined folks wandering our historic streets who thought they had perhaps found the home of Edgar Allen Poe. The way David engaged with us helped define our neighborhood as a good place to live. I miss that twinkle in his eye when he knew that one of his jokes found its audience. He invited us into his home and showed grand plans, documented in detailed sketches for another renovation project at 111 Garden Street. Its true that some of his plans didn't have an available budget, but you could really see his vision. I loved his kitchen project that became reality, including a great fireplace with faux stone that looked as if it were real Greek masonry installed 500 yrs ago. So many cool stories. We love you David.

“ Dear Karg family:

I wish to convey my sincerest condolences to your entire family. Losing a loved one in death is one of the hardest things that anyone will ever have to deal with. There is a great hope held out to us for the future because God promises to bring those we lost back to life by means of a resurrection to a paradise earth, where sickness and death will be no more. I hope this brief message will bring you a measure of comfort in this difficult time.

“ David was his own man. When you met him, you would never forget him. He was quiet and unassuming and, at the same time, his remarks would cause you to stop and think about what he had said. His thoughts seemed simple enough, but the words he chose were clearly meant to provoke thought.

Yes, he was clearly a one-of-a-kind human being.
