“ Donna was bright from start to finish, to many good memories to mention. But as her Son-In-Law she always did her best to cheer me up or to encourage me. I remember she would always pull me aside and tell me shes proud of the man I've become, and very pleased on how I treat her daughter. We've had our differences but I'm glad the last time her and I had seen each other was very uplifting. I didn't expect any of this and know why now I hugged her twice that day. She will be missed dearly. The early morning texts, and emojis looking back I should have cherished them more. I know shes up there in heaven smiling at all of us knowing our family can all come together and show love and peace. A hard road lies ahead but as one, we can truly know the meaning of love and happiness!
Love you Mum <3 R.I.P. Donna Bush.
