“ Tony, the thoughts and memories I have of you take me back to the years when we were young, carefree and innocent. I will cherish those memories with all my heart. We certainly had some serious fun. On a wing and a prayer, my friend. You will truly be missed! ((hugs))##imported-begin##Terry Gorwood##imported-end##

“ You can shed tears that he is gone,
Or you can smile because he lived,
You can close your eyes and pray that he will come back,
Or you can open your eyes and see all that he has left.

... See More

Your heart can be empty because you can't see him
Or you can be full of the love that you shared,
You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday,
Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember him and only that he is gone
Or you can cherish his memory and let it live on.##imported-

“ After being raised in a house with a brother not worth knowing I was happy to call you a brother no matter what the DNA or paperwork said. Working with Daddy-O we met...from that day on (excluding the one time you believed a liar living with your cousin on Monroe Street) you were always a breath of fresh air. Even though the choices you continued to make and the people you surrounded yourself with in life in time got in the way that never changed how much you meant to me... no more then your death will. My hope for you is the same in death as it always was in life...Fly straight, find peace, know you deserve to feel loved ~You will always be remembered~ Chantell###imported-begin##Chantell###imported-end##

“ May you rest in Peace. Joe Yacono told me for years he thought you were his brothers son. It was nice of him to adopt you so atleast you had a male figure in your life. I was happy to hear you finally acknowledged both of your daughters before your death. May the angels smile upon you###imported-begin##pat###imported-end##
