“ One whole year and it still feels unreal. It's been the hardest year of my life but you give me strength everyday. I know you would be proud. Words can not describe what an amazing, courageous, loving father you were. You supported me in everything I wanted to do and most importantly you believed in me. You taught me so much. As a little girl following your every footstep all the way into adult hood I watched and learned from you very carefully. I hope to be such a great role model to my son. I look at your grandson and I see so much of you in him. It reminds me everyday that you are here with us living through the hearts of your loved ones. Keep watching over me and your grandson<3 I know you are up there in heaven smiling down. I love you daddy. I'm missing you so much.
