“ Sorry for your loss, I didn't know her directly but I sure did hear about her indirectly and I understand that you can't find a better person who was loving and caring. Special people have special places in our hearts and in our memories. May the family rejoice with her spirit and have long and loving memories to share with friends, family and strangers. May it touch them the way it touched me. My sympathies are with you as you grieve at this time. May your days that follow be filled with smiles as you continue to tell of her life and keep her memories alive!

*Much Peace,

May God provide you with the comfort you will need to move through this time of grieving. Christina blessed so many. I was one of the beneficiaries of her love. She will never be forgotten. She made a difference!*
