“ My deepest condolences to all surviving relatives of SGM Frank J. Fattore. Although we all may be from different backgrounds, we all can agree that Frank has been supportive the best way he knew how. Although we mourn, Matthew 5:4 reminds us Jesus promises comfort to those who are mourning and grieving a loss. So let us mourn now but celebrate his life also, for he is no longer limited by his flesh and lives on with our Heavenly Father. In January, my family and I went to visit Frank at the VA home, and when I prayed over him, I have never seen Frank so emotional, comfortable, and responsive; I knew then, Jesus had His hands on Frank, as Frank was smiling, watching some baseball with me, and reminiscing some old pictures of many things! Frank will be dearly missed and will always be loved. God, he is with you now and we know that he is smiling talking about the New York Yankees and listening to Sinatra’s “I did it my Way!”

“ I'm hoping this is the right Frank Fattore, as I searched for the Obituary and couldn't find one, but I believe this is Beth's Father. If so, I am truly sorry I wasn't able to attend the service. I know how close you and your boys were to your dad.

“ I'd like to send my heartfelt condolences to members of Frank's family not mentioned here his three daughters, Tracy, Kim, and Beth and his two grandsons Stephen and Aiden Dupnak. I'm so sorry for your loss. And I hope you take peace in knowing that Frank is in the arms of our Lord and reunited with his loving parents. May he rest peacefully there. May God grant you his grace as you grieve. Hope Russo.
