“ *Harry,
I couldn't be there and neither could Danielle or the rest of the girls.
I wanted to wish you well on your long journey and tell you how grateful I was to have known you and what wonderful memories we all shared. My thoughts are with you and I only hope you say hello to the "gang" that's gone before.....
Travel well, we all loved you

“ To many great memories of Harry to mention. He was always there to lend a hand, and of course always made you feel better no matter what.

He lived his life the way many of us wish we could.

“ I use to see a man all dressed up in a red, white and blue outfit, running up and down Main St. during our annual homecoming parade in Maine. I use to laugh and laugh and each time say" who is that crazy guy?" Then one day, a 79 years young Harry Fry walks into my store and we instantly become friends. It was a few years later that I found out that Harry was my crazy red white and blue guy! He sent me a picture of himself all dressed up in this outfit, and it is framed on my shelf at home. I will always look at it and smile and remember my crazy friend Harry! Funny how a little accidental meeting turns out to be such a special feature in ones life, but I have a feeling that this happened to a lot of people who met Harry. I will never forget you Harry Fry and am so grateful that I was lucky enough to get to know you if only for a short time. I am so very sorry to his family and friends for the loss of such a special man. My thoughts and prayers are with you.....

“ I grew up with Harry Jr and so had the opportunity to meet Harry Sr and interact. Now as an adult, looking back at the man, I can say that he was surely unique. He steered by his own compass that guided him through a most very interesting life.

*Mrs Marie, Harry Jr, Cher and family our prayers are with you.

“ Dear family of Harry Fry :

I am sorry to hear that you lost your dear husband and father. Losing a loved one in death is one is one of the hardest things that anyone will ever have to deal with. We have a great hope for the future because God promises to bring those we lost to life by means of a resurrection to a paradise earth, where sickness and death will be no more. I hope this brief Bible message will bring you a measure of comfort in this difficult time.

“ My condolences to all who loved Harry and his vision of life. To be in his company was to be as caught up in a whirlwind. Like the flickering flames of a fire by the lake in his beloved Maine, his energy and joy of living enveloped all in his company. I am much richer in fond and wonderful memories for having known Harry... what more can we ask of another than to pass through this life and share the joy. Thank You Harry.
