“ First burn is a tuff but blessed and has its rewards note that I've been a mom for 30 years I e the challenges I was 19 s as you were when I was born Geesh we grew together you were tuff on me in the younger years but looking back and seeing family and friends kids that didn't have someone making sure they were doing the right things to have someone who cared no regrets loved going on our walls and listening to the boombox with your cassettes was pretty cool zeppelin Jethro Tull (aqua Lung) still had me dead 🤔🤔 my Rodney Dangerfield 🤔🤔 I still remember going to your apartment recently and hearing Rodney here. I thought I was the when I called you that you're very funny dad your laugh was contagious and you did remind me of Rodney Dangerfield and that was a flex 😊 We talked about Jesus and talked about many different things and I'm so happy that you know your Lord and Savior Jesus we talked about him often 🙏❤️ í love things you would tell me about him growing up amazing how you came from no religion and when you married mom her and nana helped you make you into a catholic all at one time I know you went threw alot growing up but your laugh was contagious always goofing around wrestling playing trouble aggravation good times Easter was so fun I seen the joy on your face playing aggravation with the kids oh we'll keep the tradition going, but thanks for being my dad. I'm gonna miss you especially the last year that we got to spend more time together. I'm gonna be sad but I have enough memories that keep me laughing here and there I already told you before you left you gotta say hi to the girls you get to spend time with my babies and you'll get to see Mom and your mom and dad. Your brother and so many others that you lost. I love you, dad and I'll see you one day again. Love your mini ❤️ps you get to thank Jesus in person for blessing me and the kids with a new home we prayed often and he heard our prayers I know that put you at ease you knew we were taking care of 🙏❤️
