“Admired and respected as an energetic, hardworking man juggling a successful career at RCA while building houses on the side, generous and helpful with family and friends while frugal and simple living himself. Paid for his granddaughter’s college education because “It’s something I want to do”, helped me hands on with building my own house while always expressing sincere gratitude for the smallest thing I did for him - what can I say except thank you from the bottom of my heart. Rest in Peace John, you did an admirable job in life. Love, Jim

“Jack” was a man that I admired and respected for his love and dedication to his family. Truly the best of us. In turn he was blessed to have his family’s loving support in his final years. My deepest sympathies to the Hines and Longo families. Love and peace to all.
