“ Where do I start, Kevin was my best friend for 34 years. I can't begin to explain how much I miss him already. I am praying for him and his family each day. I will never forget the good times we had as kids growing up and the good times we had doing and going various places with our families.

I don't know who I am going to go with to the Mets & Jets game anymore. We shared a love of our sports teams and although we did see the Mets win a Championship in 86, he never got to see his beloved JETS win a Superbowl. I know now Next year will be that year, Kevin's father past away the year before the Mets won the world series and now with Kevin's help The Jets will win in 2011.

Kevin Rest In Peace my friend, I know your with your Dad and Grandmother watching over us all. Thanks for being my friend and the Brother I never had.##imported-begin##Anthony Cascarelli##imported-end##
