“ Most of the times my mother seen me..she would smile and say, "how's my pookie"?
Her smile was infectious and her spirit can never be replaced. I no longer will hear those words, but I will always feel them. She taught me how to love unconditionally. I will always be grateful for her example and her love for others.

“ One of many memories that I have is when Beth was babysitting me, and fell asleep while making soup, we both woke up to the fire alarm going off. My favorite time with Beth was when I lived in Norfolk Virginia with her and John, I just couldn't get up on time for the bus. But I always ended up with a ride from John. No chance of me staying home. Lol
