Your mom was a spit fire Susan! As kids we could never get anything past her! She always busted us when we were over the house. Rest in peace Mary

My memories of your Mom were all tied to wrestling. I remember her coming out to see Evan wrestle. How excited and proud she'd get. And that she always made a point to cheer the whole team on. And no matter how crazy you'd get. She'd always , look over to you and smile. Just happy to see you happy.

I have much older memories those of a shared childhood. I remember Mary as always cheerful, and old photos bear that out. Someone called her "Sparrow" when we were shooting baskets at an open gym day at a local school. She was like those little birds I see at my bird feeder-- cute, energetic, determined, dauntless. She didn't make many baskets because she was so short, but it didn't matter; it was fun! I miss my little cousin.
