“ *Our hearts are broken, but in time I know Michael will heal us with his spirit. I remember walking into your house on Hilton Street where I would go for my school lunch break and see Michael sitting in his high chair. I so vividly remember that smile you would give me when I came in. I remember calling you my baby and naming one of my dolls Michael Anthony after you. You always gave the best hugs! I remember you coming to see me at work in LBI when you were on a run, always taking the time to stop in and say hello. Your kindness and love are etched forever in my heart. Though I would do anything in my power to bring you and Timmy back, I find comfort knowing you are there together and in Pop-Pops arms. I didn't get a chance to say these last five things when you were here but I would like to say them now knowing you are here watching over us....forgive me, I forgive you, thank you, I love you, and goodbye....Till we meet again.
