“ You will be missed Aunt Millie. You may not be my aunt by blood but in my heart you are. You will be missed. Going to miss our talks and our peanut butter crackers snack..

She told me about you. Aunt Millie loved you and enjoyed spending time with you when you came to the house each week.

“ From the day I was born, she was there for me. She loved me fully and without hesitation, unconditionally, and I was blessed to grow up wrapped in that love. I carry a lifetime of memories filled with joy, laughter, and the warmth of her endless hugs and gentle ‘I love you so much, honey,’ as she tapped me on the head. She taught me how to love openly and without fear, and that gift will stay with me always.

Our relationship was shaped over many years and countless shared moments. From endless family gatherings to taking walks along the railroad tracks, strolling to the boat yard, playing board games and cards, goofy golf, and going out to dinner — we were always laughing and enjoying one another’s company.

In the end, I know the love we shared never wavered. She knew I loved her, and I knew she loved me — and that is what truly matters. I will cherish her always and hold her close in my heart forever.
