

Nathan W Matos

February 16, 1997 - April 20, 2019

Nathan W. Matos of Hainesport, died on April 20, 2019 in Texas. He was 22. Nathan was born February 16, 1997 in Willingboro, New Jersey, to Edwin and Kathy Ann Jones Matos. His father is a health care technician for Apria Health Care in Westampton, New Jersey, and his mother is a music teacher at Pemberton Township Schools in Pemberton, New Jersey. Growing up with his special needs twin brother Jordan, Nathan's childhood was surrounded by his loving family and extended family. He attended Lighthouse Christian School for pre-school and then Timothy Christian Academy from Kindergarten until eighth grade. During this time he began playing baseball and learned to play the trombone. Enjoying performing, he always participated in school plays and musicals. He loved attending Vacation Bible School with his cousin Kayla Cousins.

For high school, Nathan attended Burlington County Institute of Technology in Medford, New Jersey, where he was in the engineering program. He excelled in school and was inducted into the National Honor Society. Excelling at sports as well as academics, Nathan ran cross-country and played on the BCIT baseball team throughout his high school years, winning many championships. Well-liked by his teachers and fellow students, Nathan was considered a friend to all. His senior class trip to Disney World was a memorable time spent with those close friends. Due to his excellent academic, social, and athletic record, he was accepted to every college he applied to, and he proudly chose to attend Texas A&M.

Nathan was a proud full-time student at Texas A&M, where he was a member of the Corps of Cadets. As a member of the Corps, one of his duties as Logistics Officer was to raise the flags around Kyle Field. Attending A&M was filled with many good times for Nathan, including attending Aggie football games and several spring break trips with his fellow Corps members, most recently to Colorado. It was made even better by his relationship with his girlfriend Stephanie. After meeting through a mutual friend at A&M, he and Stephanie had been dating for approximately two years. He was looking forward to graduating in December 2019, and beginning his career.

Nathan's faith was always important to him. While in high school, he attended First Baptist Church in Eastampton, New Jersey, and was involved in the youth programs. He helped to clean the church and "make some money." He was an active member of the Mount Holly Elks Club and was involved in many of their functions. As a brother of a special needs twin, he was extremely proud when his brother Jordan was selected as the Mount Holly Elks poster child.

Nathan was a fun-loving individual, known for his practical jokes with his family and close friends. He loved watching professional wrestling, and he and his father Edwin would often have some fake matches in the middle of their family room. They loved the Philadelphia Phillies, and the family enjoyed going to games and cheering on the team. He was extremely close to his family, especially his Uncle Mikie and his Titi Sherryl. He loved to hang around at his Titi Angie and Uncle Kevin's house to play video games with his cousin Kayla, and enjoyed it when his family from Texas would come visit the Jersey Shore, especially Ocean City. Nathan liked building huge, complicated Lego designs, especially those from Star Wars. He collected baseball cards and loved to cook. Very committed and hard-working, once he started something, Nathan worked hard to see it to his completion.

husband Wendle, his uncle Billy Jones and his wife Ginger, his Aunt Maria Cousins and her husband Kevin of Browns Mills, New Jersey, his aunt Yolanda Matos-Mulhern and her husband Tom, his uncle Mikie and Titi Sherryl Matos, his aunt Ruth Matos Fels and her husband Mark, his cousins Megan and her husband John (with children Brooke and Max), Jenna Jones, Cody Jones, Kayla Cousins, Adam Mulhern, Isaac Mulhern, Caleb Mulhern, Christine Hayes and her husband Mark (with daughter Abigail), Michael Matos and his wife Allyson (with son Elon), Jonathan Matos, Clarice Fels, along with many friends.

“ I only got to meet him a few times at the Elks club. But he was so kind and polite and took such care of his brother. All you had to do was spend time in the company of the Matos family even for a moment to know that are incredible people and well loved. My thoughts prayers and love are with you in your loss.

“ Our hearts are breaking. Nathan was an awesome young man. I can still see him playing with my girls while his Mom Kathy and I tried to get our classrooms ready every year. He was always willing to help and such a little gentleman. Nathan grew up to be an exceptional young man with a bright future. He will be in our hearts and prayers forever.

“ My son Asa played baseball with Nate for many years. He was a fantastic young man. I used to want to clone him on the field and have him play all the positions! He was just that good!! He was a great son, brother, teammate and young man who was kind and respectful. Our thoughts and prayers go out to the family.
