“ Almost a year since I last seen you and spoke to you. Your grandson was born, on July 3rd. His name is Gabriel Raymond. I know you would of loved him just like he would of loved you. Every single day I think of you. What we would be doing if you were still here, all the fun you would have playing with bella during the summer. She starts school this year, I know she would of loved for you to be there. She has not forgotten you, and I will make sure she never does. She still talks about you daily and talks about all the fun memories she has of you. We love you and miss you dad

“ tomorrow will be one month that we lost you. I still can not believe it. I try not to think about it, but it is hard not to. Every morning I look out the bathroom window hoping to see you sitting out there. I keep forgetting to let charlie out in the morning because you always did it. You did so much for us every day, we cant even keep track. We are trying to get the hang of taking the trash and the recycling out on time, you always made sure it was done. Every friday you would walk and pay our rent for us. For some odd reason you would always clean up the back yard, and it makes sense why now. We have not been out back since we lost you, but it still seems to get messy. All these little things you did for us, not because we made you but because you wanted to. I want to call you to ask if you want to hang out and go for a ride, or go shopping, just anything. I thought as time went on, it would get easier. But it hasnt, its only gotten harder. Whenever someone needed you, you were always right there. You have always been a great father to us. Sure, you couldnt buy us fancy things and anything we ever wanted, but we didnt need it, we only needed your love and we had it. I remember taking the bus up to the movies all the time. We would order the same thing each time. Pretzel bites, pop corn, candy and a soda. I just really miss you. I could sit here for hours and go on about all the things you have done for everyone. I never thought you would leave us so soon. It breaks my heart knowing you wont be here for all the things to come in the future. You wont be here for my wedding, or damiens wedding, or to see any future grand kids grow up. You wont be here to see bella get married, or meet any future great grand kids. Thats hard, It wont ever be easy, no matter how much time goes by. I miss you more and more each day dad. I love you.

“ Miss you dad, Bella asked to send you a letter in the mail last night. Im going to let her write a message on a balloon and send it up to you. It makes me said when she asks questions when she will see you, and when you will come down to tell her you love her. Although it makes me sad it also makes me happy she still remembers you, loves you, and misses you. It still feels unreal that your not here. I really love you and miss you dad. We all do!

“ Everyday that goes by is so hard for me, I expect to see you sitting out front at moms and you are not there. You were not only just my brother you were also my best friend and were always there for me no matter what. My heart is breaking cause you are not here. I can not be selfish thought, you were in pain and now you are at peace. Now you and Brian can be together with the rest of the family. I will always love both you and Brian. I wish I could turn back time and bring both of you back to be with us, but I know that is not possible. Be a peace and remember you may not be in here in body but you love and memories will be in all of our hearts.

“ Just wanted to say I love you and I miss you. I still feel like this is not real. I remember every day all i would have to do was look out back or out front and you were there. Anytime I needed to go shopping, you always went with me just to get out and go for a ride. You were the one who went to pretty much every store around here with me when I was looking for new clothes and ended up only finding two things the entire time. You went food shopping with me, you would walk to the store for me if I didnt feel like it. You were the one who always remembered to take out our recycling and trash. You picked up charlies poop every single day. You would watch bella anytime i had to do something or even just so i could relax. You would come over and help me clean the house even though it would be destroyed the next day. You helped me clean my car whenever david let it get to messy. You were always there for me, and everyone and you would always do anything for anyone. I miss it all. Without you here it just feels weird, I just want to pick up the phone and call you. I want to get a text message from you that I can barely read because you were not to good at typing. I want to sit outback with you and talk while we watch bella play. I want you back. I physically had to say goodbye to you, but emotionally and mentally you are still here. You are still alive to me. You are my dad and I miss you more than I could EVER say! We have done so much together in the 21 years I have been here. I want you at my wedding. I want you to meet any future grand kids you will have. I want you there when I graduate college. I just want you back. If I had a time machine and knowing that I would have lost you so soon I would go back and prevent this. Out of all the bad stuff ive done in my life i would not change any of it if it means being able to have you back. It sucks its not possible, I hate it. Ive lost so many family members that I loved very much, and it has never hurt like this before. Ive never been so numb in my life. I dont think I will ever accept that your gone. I told myself I would be strong. I would be strong for damien and Bella. I just miss you so much dad. I will ALWAYS be a daddies girl. Ill make sure to get a nice big tattoo for you. I know how much you love tattoos. I love you dad.

“ Today was a hard day, but seeing you lay there so peaceful made it easier. You looked like your normal self. No pain, no discomfort, no ivs hooked up to you. You looked like you. Hearing the letters from grandmom and pop and aunt Debbie they all mentioned how much you loved Bella. It made me cry because I wasn't the only one to see how much you loved her. She will always know her pop pop. She knows your watching her and that you love her. I hope you enjoy the pictures of all your kids and grand kids. It warms my heart knowing a piece of us are in there with you. I love you dad, nd I hope your having fun being your normal self up there with everyone else. I know baine is happy to see you again! Love you dad.

“ Ray I miss always seeing you pulling over to talk to you , you always had a smile on your face. I will miss seeing that and so will all my little ones. I met you at 17 , you and Tins were so kind and good to Me. You are very much missed and its sad such a kind man was taken so soon. Miss you always

“ I like to think that you can see these messages, it brings me comfort to write them. Today at work one of the girls said Her parents knew you. She said you were her dad's best man in his wedding. Aunt sherry confirmed this and it made me feel good knowing other people knew you. She brought up how her dad loved hockey, and I just knew she was right that it was you she was talking about. we were on our way home earlier and Bella said, mommy pop pops new home is in the sky. He is a Angel with wings looking down on me saying that's my Bella!, booyah! It melts my heart that she has all these memories with you. You were like her second dad and she loves you very much. Miss you dad, more than I could ever say

“ I read the obituary about the loss of your loved one and I extend my sincere condolences. At this time you are feeling an unbearable pain, and experiencing a great loss. Psalms 46:1 says, “God is our refuge and strength, a help that is readily found in times of distress.” He lovingly cares for you and does not want you to handle this time alone and he wants you to pray to him. (1Peter 5:7)
He will help you get through this difficult time. (Isaiah 41:10)
I hope this brief Bible message has brought you a measure of comfort in this difficult time.

“Ray. Your Diabetic socks came yesterday. When I saw the package I cried. I cried not because your not here to wear them, but because you don't have to wear them. In heaven your whole again, reborn as you were when you were first created, healthy. However I miss you and Brian so very much. My heart is heavy with grief, pieces missing. I so wish we could of done more. I find myself listening for the latch to the gate and looking to see you walking in backpack on, phone in hand. I love you Ray.”

“Nana found some old pictures of you and uncle Jim today. Brought a smile to my face seeing you so happy There was one of you holding me the day i was born. You looked scared and like you had no idea how to hold a baby lol. Im going to blow them up and hang them up. There were also a bunch of pictures from mom and yours wedding day. I miss seeing you every single day. I know I told myself I would be strong, but I think im taking it harder than anyone else. Every time I walk downstairs I see you, I feel you there, I can still smell you. This can't be real. It hurts so much knowing you wont be there on my wedding day. You may not be there physically, but I know you will be there in spirit. It means the world to me to know that you approved. I just wish I could spend one more day with you. Everything happened so fast and so soon. I keep telling myself its for the better. your no longer in any pain, and your finally able to be reunited with your brother, best friend, and dog. It is just not fair that you were taken from us so soon. I love you so much dad and I miss you more than anything.”

“ Missing you so bad right now. Aunt sherry brought over some of your things. Bella loved to see some of your undertaker dolls and spongebob figurines. I'm glad to have a piece of you here. This seems like a never ending nightmare. I just can't seem to accept that your not here. I don't want to believe it. I keep hoping I'll wake up and you'll be here. I love you dad, I really do. I miss you more than anything, I just wish you were here.

“ I had a dream last night, more like a memory. Every day you used to make me a big plate of green beans with almost burnt porkroll. I would sit in your big recliner, with your blanket and watch tv with you while eating. It was my favorite thing! I remember calling you in the morning if I didn't want to go to school, and you would call me out and tell me not to tell mom. We would go for walks in the mount, and fishing all the time. I never thought I would loose you so soon. I can't bring myself to delete your text messages, it was just a few days ago when you texted me you love me. I just still can't believe it. First thing this morning Bella said, mommy is pop pop still a Angel in the sky looking down watching me? I told her yes, she said yay that makes me happy! I miss pop pop. We all miss you dad, and we all love you.

“ I will never forget the days I stayed home and watched Gilligan's island, and Jerry Springer with you. I was reading the newspaper this morning and came across the comics, it reminded me of when you used to cut out the comics you thought were funny and leave them on the fridge so that mom would read them in the morning. It put a smile on my face today. Even though you are gone, you will always be in my heart. I know that you are up there playing with Baine right now and hanging out with Uncle Jim. You left us to soon. I Love you Ray

He still cut out those comics and wrote funny little messages and left them for mom and I. I'm glad you remember that because I almost forgot about it.
