“ Steve will definitely be missed. He always had a joke in his mouth, a smile on his face and a 'pound' to give ya when he greeted you.... It was a pleasure knowing him and bowling with him as long as I did. He watched my daughter grow up on Monday night's while lovingly teasing her about her "Biggie" old beat up stuffed animal.... Much love and condolences to his family....

“ Monday night football league will never be the same without Steve being there to entertain us, congratulate us and just be one of the kindest people I have known in a long time. No matter what lane you were on in the alley he would somehow see what you and your bowling ball had done to the pins and holler out a "nice shot Barb", "good ball, Barb"

He would have my granddaughter constantly watching him wondering what and when he would sneak up on her to try and steal her stuffed hippo.

He always had a kind word and something funny to say. He will be missed not only on Mondays but daily.

We love him but God loved him best!

R I P Steve!

Always, Barbara Hornsby

“ Steve and I shared a parking space at work. He would park in the first space by the employee entrance. If he was not parked there, I would take it and he would jokingly say, "I allowed you to park there. You're welcome." If someone else was parked there, he'd say, "Did you see that car parked in our spot?" I miss him everytime I pull into the parking lot.

We were also breakfast buddies. He would pass my office on the way to the breakroom between 9:30am and 10am everyday and say, "Egg time!" I would drop what I was doing and follow him into the breakroom where I would grab my hard boiled egg and he would set up his food at one of the computers and watch wrestling clips on You Tube.

He was a great guy and I miss him dearly.

Steve is in the background wearing a black tang top. He stops what he's doing and comes to congratulate and applaud Chris on a perfect game. That's the kind of guy he was. He loved to bowl and was competitive but he always put his friends and values first. This video I took on Monday April 25 2016 the last time we bowl together and on April 29 he passed away. Steve was a gentleman and had a sense of humor. It won't be the same without him. I will miss my friend Steve .

“ Steve was a great co-worker and could always make you laugh. Whenever I had to go in the warehouse and do a quality control inspection, Steve always said to me" Where's my sandwich woman!" I wish I had brought him a sandwich one of those times. I will miss his jokes, sarcasm and laughter. Thank you Steve for helping me with my tree when no one else would.
God Bless you Steve, rest in peace.
