

Sun He Bray

March 1, 1953 - June 23, 2012

Sun He Bray of Eastampton, the beloved daughter of her mother, Kyung He Kang, of Eastampton, and her father, the late Ho Choi, was surrounded by family members and friends, Saturday, June 23, 2012, as she went home to be with her Lord. Sun He lost her battle with cancer after being diagnosed this past winter.

A devoted member of New Life Assembly in Wrightstown, Sun He continuously blessed others with her servant attitude and glorious voice. She shared a ministry for young girls and boys with her husband, Bill Bray. Her deep love for others prompted Sun He and Bill to sponsor a young girl in Thailand through Compassion International, a Christian Outreach organization.

Sun He was born in Seoul, Republic of South Korea. She was preceded in death by her father; her daughter, Christina Selby; a brother, Moon Jae; and an uncle, Hyun Ku Kang.

Sun He is survived by her husband, Bill; a son, Jason Miller and his wife, Dina, and their sons, Braydin and Austin, of Maple Shade; a son-in-law, Phillip (Jay) Selby and his sons, Tsai and Taeko of Mount Laurel; and her mother, Kyung He Kang; a sister, Jin He of Edison, N.J., and a brother, Seon Jai. There will be a memorial service at 11 a.m. Saturday, June 30, at New Life Assembly, 131 E. Main St., Wrightstown. Interment will be held privately. There will be no calling time.

In lieu of flowers, contributions in her name may be made to Sun He's favorite charities, www.daystar.com, www.intouch.org, or www.aspca.org.
