“ Suzie, I am going to miss you a whole hell of a lot. I am going to miss the love that you shared with everyone. You were never mean to anyone you came in contact with. You especially loved children of any age, however babies were your favorite.

I can remember coming home from Japan in 1988 right after Joshua was born, you invited Alice, my boys and I over to your house to go swimming with you and Joshua. What a day we had! You were teaching Joshua how to swim at about 6 months old. We all were having the time of our lives.

You may have left us here on Earth, however things may have come and gone in this life, no one can take away the memories you have left us with. Like the trips in the old Plymouth Station-wagon, up and down the East Coast with all eight of us kids and Mom and Dad. You always had a book in your hands reading, sitting behind Dad who of course was driving. You were given the task of straightening John and I out, until Dad stopped the car which was not often.

Then comes the 1974 Chevy Nova with a V-8, 350 in it. You worked many all nighters with the inventory company to buy that car. You let me drive it as long as I paid for car insurance on it for myself. And at 17 it wasn't cheap insurance in NJ, even back then. And when it was my turn to drive, I would babysit Rocky and Amanda and take them to Alice's house with and they would play with Alice's brothers and sisters. When it got dark Alice and I would load your two children and her 5 siblings in the Nova and take out to see the Jersey Devil in the woods of Chatsworth. Those kids had a ball all for the hard work of you and buying that Nova. Can't do that today with nine people in a Nova.

Love always and forever your little brother:) James

“ *Our daughter, also name Susan Gray, was in many of the same classes in Hainesport Elementary School and being the same age and also living in Hainesport was not unusual. Once when our Susan got a lower than normal math mark she blame it on a mix up by the school and it was actually her Cousin Susan's mark. When we looked at her skeptically she smiled and admitted that she was only kidding. Over the last few years I ran into Suzie frequently in the Chapel or in the halls at the Masssonic Village in Burlington. She was a sweetheart and was happy to see me and stretched her arms out for a hug. I felt it necessary to explain, on several occasions that it was " O.K., " She's my Cousin ". Gonna miss that gal!
