“ My prayer is with all of you during this difficult time. I was not in homerooms or classes with Tom while at Camden Catholic. However, he was a classmate whom I do remember. May he rest in the presence of our loving God!! Barbara A. Williams, RSM, Class of 1956.

“ I met Tom in 1998 when he interviewed me for a position in the tax map dept. at Alaimo Engr. I worked there and he taught me how to maintain the maps for various townships . He had a system set up that is still being used there today. I learned how to do my job the right way for sure. Tom was a great teacher. Thanks to him I was successful. Tom will be missed by all he came in contact with. My deepest sympathy to his family. Rose

“ I met Tom in 1971. He taught me how to run the transit and I was a transitman for several years. He was my mentor, there was nothing he couldn't do. I enjoyed working with him although it seemed I was only there for comic relief, like the time I got stuck in quicksand while wearing his hip boots. I enjoyed hearing him reminisce of hunting as a youth before present day development took over the fields and woods either side of a two lane Route 130. He took pride in being the only one to have ever hit a baseball out of the ballpark on Chester Avenue in Riverside. Thirty years later he helped me get a job at RAA. I paid him back by getting the developer of his community in Westampton to correct the poor drainage around his home. Tom was a fine man and significantly impacted my life. I look forward to seeing him again in heaven.

“ Tom was a coworker of mine for many years. When I was a young engineer, it was always good to have "Senior" around to confer with and set me straight. My condolences to "Junior" and the Capetti Family.

“ Tom and Fran were/are my neighbors for many years. NAT and I couldn't have asked for better. They were always looking out for us. We will miss our talks about everything but especially our families and our faith. He will be so missed but the memories will comfort us as we hope they will his family.
